Interrogation Room

Court-proof documentation

Interrogation management

Conex™ Voxlog® documents the entire interrogation encrypted, signed and tamper-proof to be presented in court.

Conex™ Voxlog® meets all requirements for a modern recording and documentation system for police interrogations.

Compliance with regulations

Judicial record by encrypted and tamper-proof storage in accordance with legal and operational requirements.

Audio, video, images, documents

All video and audio recordings of a questioning are documented together as interrogation. In addition, documents and transcripts can be assigned.

Documentation

Audio, video and data of security-relevant communication processes are documented in compliance with legal requirements.

Interrogation management

Interrogations can be exported encrypted in accordance with the regulatory clearance process to the judiciary, using a multiple-eye principle.

Archiving

Data backups, including external ones, are made and recorded according to regulatory specifications.
